

MediNotes Corporation and MDeverywhere Partner to Provide Integrated Software Solution for Physicians

The two Best of Breed companies join forces to help enhance patient care

West Des Moines, IA - (May 22, 2007) – MediNotes Corporation, a leading provider of electronic medical record (EMR) systems for primary care and specialty medical practices announced today a partnership agreement with MDeverywhere to offer a best of breed total office solution for physicians.

MDeverywhere automates the reimbursement process and revenue cycle management, focusing on maximizing returns and profitability for small and mid-sized practices. As a result of their partnership with MediNotes, MDeverywhere will offer the MediNotes e EMR as an integrated part of the MDeverywhere Total Solution to their clients via their hosted system.

“Our number one goal has always been the care and success of our clients. Partnering with MDeverywhere will add yet another way our physicians can revolutionize their practice and optimize their profits,” stated Donald G. Schoen, president and CEO, MediNotes Corporation. “We want to make our client’s jobs easier by allowing them to focus on what they do best, which is care for their patients.”

“Partnering with MediNotes provides our clients with a fully integrated practice management and electronic medical record solution,” stated David Fetterolf, President, MDeverywhere. “Our clients will now be able to access all their clinical and financial information from any web-based computer.”

In a time where many physicians are seeing a decrease in their revenues, the partnership between MediNotes and MDeverywhere allows for seamless integration between the accurate point of care coding housed within MediNotes e, and the wide variety of software solutions provided by MDeverywhere. By combining these two Best of Breed solutions, physicians will reduce their denials, streamline their workflow and gain control over their practice finances.
